MEET THE MODERN WORKSPACE

There is no single workspace that works for every organisation. The modern workspace is made up of adaptable spaces, uniquely catering to both the individual and the organisation. The HIVE collection has been designed with this in mind. Each product is versatile, providing solutions for multiple types of users.

The pandemic has shifted how work takes place. Since this, Australian employees have changed what they want within their workspaces.

According to a study, these are the top five wants from employees post-pandemic.

The static workspaces of the past aren't meeting these needs. The HIVE Collection responds to these needs and fills these gaps.

When designing for the modern workspace, research shows that these needs must be met.

THE GROUP
AND THE INDIVIDUAL

Both individual workspaces and collaborative areas need to be able to coexist alongside one another.

THE STATIC
AND THE MOBILE

In the past, workspaces were fixed structures. To be more efficient, workspaces now need to be able to become fluid if need be.

THE PRIVATE AND THE SOCIAL

The desire for enclosed personal spaces and open collaborative spaces allows for safety and flexibility.

THE INTEGRATION
TECHNOLOGY

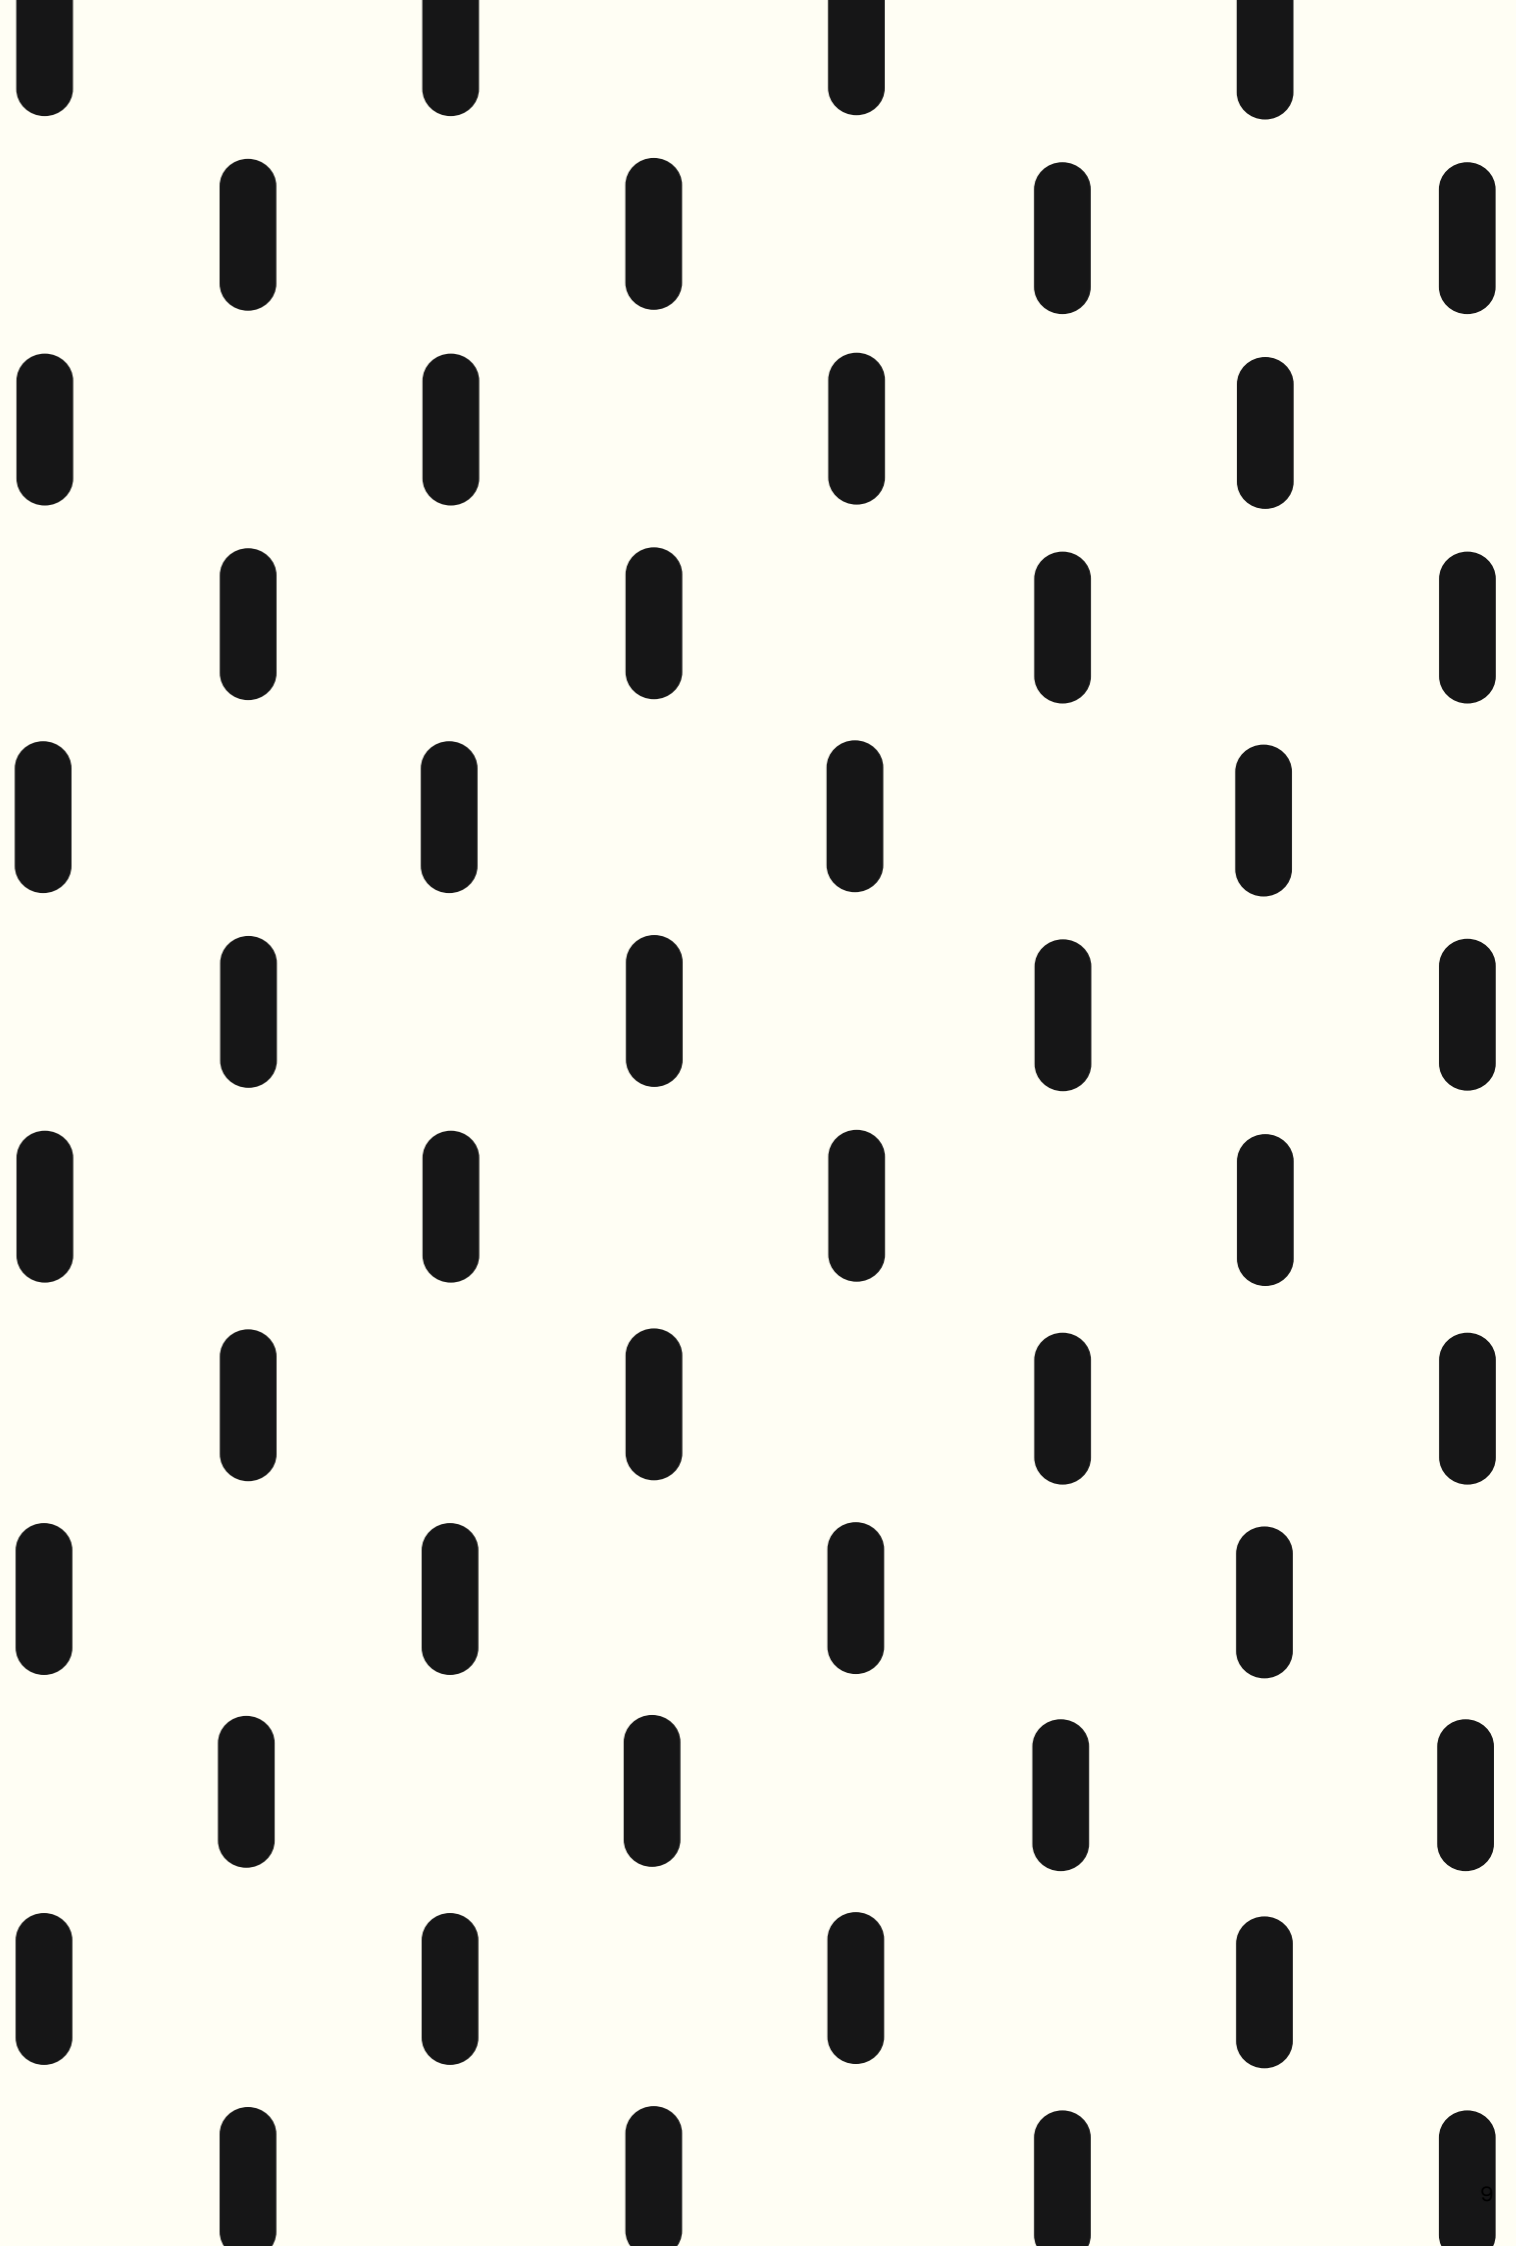

Both digital and physical work styles need to be able to coexist for there to be an efficient blending of these two work modes.

HIVE Collection

The HIVE collection addresses the needs of the modern workspace, seamlessly blending the static and the mobile.
